

Authentic Teaching

HANNAH SHINAULT

TEACH LIKE YOURSELF

How Authentic Teaching
Transforms Our Students and Ourselves

GRAVITY GOLDBERG

A photograph of a brick building, likely a school, with a white text box overlay in the center. The building has multiple windows and a gabled roof. In the foreground, there is a paved area with a bench and some bicycles. The scene is surrounded by lush green trees and a clear blue sky.

“Being your true self as a teacher is exactly what your students need.”
-Gravity Goldberg

Teaching Traps

Avoid these traps!

- Trying too hard to entertain
- Anticipating outcomes
- Blaming

Authentic teaching happens when...

Do's and Don'ts

- DO own your strengths
- DON'T compare
- DON'T “play school”
- DO share
- DO align teaching with core beliefs

Identify Core Beliefs

Connect the dots...

LIBERAL ARTS AND HUMAN SCIENCES
SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION
VIRGINIA TECH

Aligning Core Beliefs with Teaching Practice*

[illegible]

Sharing & Questions

「 Hannah Shinault
hshinault@vt.edu